

LISTEN UP! WORKSHOPS

WWILD is seeking women who have an intellectual disability for workshops across Queensland. These two day workshops will focus on safety and rights within relationships and organisations, information about violence and skills to access safety. We would like to talk to each participant prior to the workshops for a pre-group interview. In addition to the workshops this year, we are hoping to meet with participants again next year again (dates to be confirmed). These workshops are not suitable for women currently experiencing domestic violence or in crisis.

WWILD IS LOOKING FOR WORKSHOP PARTICIPANTS

- Women who have an intellectual disability, aged 18+
- Want to know more about relationships, domestic, family and sexual violence
- Want to share their ideas about making organisations more accessible for those with an intellectual disability
- Currently safe and not in immediate crisis
- Can attend both days of workshop
